The Sontaj Quest publication is tailored to serve a diversified local Jamaican market. This e-book is geared toward reaching and building a focused interest who will be using this e-book to access the Sontaj game content and other novelty.

Our goal is by this e-book to have many persons become aware of our game and participate in playing. The game presented within provides key support toward the Sontaj Quest competition. The competition can be accessed on our Tiktok page @sontajgm and is planned to become a regular staple. A new publication will be available every six month of the year.

Yes this is another way for more persons to be richly entertained. With varying challenges of life many person sometimes feel mentally stressed. Now here is a great product for the mind with big cash reward for play. The Sontaj Quest e-book is formulated to give high mental stimulation and recharge.

The Sontaj Quest e-Book publication is the first e-book of its kind to be introduced and offered to the public. It provides a unique blend of poetry, game and other novelty for helping to build a healthy mind. One of its core focus is promoting mental health and wholeness of individuals.

It is our hope that this publication will lend itself to provide a few advertisement solutions to businesses in Jamaica. Fixed placed advertisement is still a powerful tool.

Game Instructions

(Eg. 01)

Here are a few quick and easy steps to follow on how to play and find your game solution quickly.

Steps:

In (eg.01) above, how do you find the letter that should appear under column (6) of row (1)?

Answer = "D"

How is "D" the logical answer?

The reason "D" is the logical answer is for this reason. The game uses nine letters from "A" to "I" for its solution. The letters should not be repeated in any column, row or squares. To solve, first check the row that you are working on to determine all missing letters that need to be placed.

Start working on one letter at a time, ensure that a letter is not repeated. In the puzzle "G" cannot appear under column (6) because it already appears so the logical answer is letter "D" as "G" goes to column (7).

Signup online to get our step by step smart guide on how to play. No guesswork.

Poetry

A Timeless Old Man

Is it a tale told, a line drawn, a fire lit, a song sang, music heard, a dance performed?

Can you tell what time it took and from what time it began?
Can it be measured or can it be tamed or trapped?

He moves through the night and races the morning light, weaving a fabric of endless tail and countless unanswered questions. Can you tell from whence time began, who started it and where has it gone? There are many masters, scholars and philosophers, but can anyone tell from whence time began? Can someone measure its span or can someone show how fast or how slow it is traveling along?

That old man ran swiftly along and there is none to catch him. He holds the full strength of youth captured in every fleeting moment. He extinguishes the mind and confounds the wise. He said watch yonder, hills and he shall pass, but, in a blast he is gone. With a steadfast gaze you will never behold his scampering strides.

In that moment he was, but, now is gone and back. He made several rounds around the clock, tick tack, tick tack, he is always coming back.

He records moment by moment that life makes contact, click clack, click clack he vanishes without a track. Friend or foe we will never know. Standing tall he bends his back with fingers tall, he grasp his heels rolling along upon vanishing trail tempered with a vanishing hand. Friend or foe we will never know the tales of this timeless old man.
